Master's Message

Brethren,

I hope that this message finds everyone well. This year has gone by fast for a year that has crawled with all of the restrictions that we faced.

“Don't Bury Me without my Apron”

It is an ancient custom when a Brother Mason passes way, That he no longer wears his apron and his tools they quietly lay. But I beg of you my Brothers closest family and loved ones to, that I must wear my apron for I have yet so much to do. Though I may not have it on the day I meet my fate, I'll be penniless and destitute as I pass that Pearly Gate. For the Grand Master has sent me a summons on that very day, and as in my obligations you know I must obey. That Grand Lodge will be called and opened for my final degree, So I must be properly clothed for the Grand Tyler to admit me. Don't bury me without my Apron my tools must not lay rest, for it is in that Grand Lodge above that I must work my Best.

Please continue to keep the families of our fallen Brothers in your thoughts and prayers and to pray for a quick end to the suffering that is going on around us.

If you did not get an invite to the zoom meeting for December please send me an email we are limited to 100 people.

Masonic Quotes

Sometimes the hardest battle only exists within yourself, our mind fighting amongst the demons of thought within our own head.
— Brandon Garic Notch

As a Master Mason, he is now at a wiser, more mature age, awaiting the inevitable destiny which binds us all: Death.
— Andreas Economou, Templar Secrets

Everyone has a story, it is what defines us. Our story continues to alter as we evolve in-and-out of our own skin, changing in manipulating the world around us.
— Brandon Garic Notch

Freemasonry is a spiritual practice that good men of every spiritual practice can agree upon.
— J.Adam Snyder
