Master's Message

Brethren,

Happy St. Patrick's Day. I hope that all are well. I am looking forward to in person meetings once again. As long as the Level stays at yellow or above.

We need to move forward as Masons and get back into the daily lives that have been denied us over the past year. We must always keep in mind that if we wish to move mountains tomorrow, we must start by lifting stones today. I feel that this past year has made us stronger in our commitment to our Brethren and to Our Craft I have never met a strong person with an easy past. As we embrace our future as Masons one day at a time we need to be mindful of our past and the Brethren that came before us that laid the groundwork for what Masonry is today. To always be mindful that we continue to work on growth and maintain the Level of Brotherly love and respect not just for the ones in our Fraternity but for those outside of it.

At our first meeting back if you have a kilt and wish to wear it please feel free.

I look forward to seeing all of you in the Lodge room instead of the chat room.

Fraternally
Ed Sisk WM

Masonic Quotes

The poor man is not he who is without a cent, but he who is without a dream. -Harry Kemp

There are parts of a ship which taken by themselves would sink. The engine would sink. The propeller would sink. But when the parts of a ship are built together, they float. So with the events of my life. Some have been tragic. Some have been happy. But when they are built together, they form a craft that floats and is going places. And I am comforted. -Ralph W. Sockman

Freemasonry is "veiled in allegory and illustrated by symbols" because these are the surest way by which moral and ethical truths may be taught. It is not only with the brain and with the mind that the initiate must take Freemasonry but also with the heart. -C. H. Claudy
